

FORMER GOVERNOR PARDEE MAKES PUBLIC STATEMENT

Californian Continues the Warfare
Upon Secretary Ballinger
Begun at Spokane.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 21.—Former Governor George C. Pardee of California, who returned from San Clemente island tonight in company with Gifford Pinchot, chief forester of the United States, gave to the Associated Press a statement regarding the declarations made in the letter of President Taft to Secretary of the Interior Ballinger, exonerating that official from charges made by L. R. Glavis, chief of the field work of the general land office at Seattle.

Mr. Pardee said: "Having read with great interest and care the President's vindication of Secretary Ballinger, the first thought that suggests itself to me is that about the only persons who will rejoice over it are those few who desire to monopolize, to the detriment of the many, power sites, coal lands and the like."

"I noticed particularly the President's declaration that, in his judgment, 'the best friend of the policy of conservation of natural resources is he who insists that every step should be taken within the law and buttressed by legal authority.' I take it that this is not intended as a reflection on the official acts of former President Roosevelt and former Secretary Garfield, who withdrew from entry public lands which Secretary Ballinger afterward restored to entry, on the ground, I am informed, that there was no specific law for Garfield's action."

"At the Irrigation congress I read a copy of a letter approved by Secretary Ballinger, thus making it his act, directing that over 4,000,000 acres of land, previously withdrawn by Garfield to save power sites from being grabbed, should be restored to entry. And this was but one of the several orders approved by Secretary Ballinger. The President mentions but one order of Ballinger's restoring to entry only 1,500,000 acres. He says also that Secretary Ballinger made this order of restoration upon the recommendation of the reclamation service."

"I have seen documentary evidence that the reclamation service argued several times with Secretary Ballinger against the restoration order of which the President speaks and that it reluctantly made the recommendation referred to by the President only after having been repeatedly and presumptuously ordered by Secretary Ballinger to do so."

MAROONS NEED QUARTER FOR TEAM

Coach Staggs in an Optimistic
Mood About His Chances.

Chicago, Sept. 21.—Director A. A. Staggs of the University of Chicago, who has just returned from his vacation, has the following to say concerning the football prospects at the Midway institution:

"Our great problem is to find a quarterback," he said. "Although we have lost a dozen men whom I had counted on, none of them, if eligible, would have fitted into Steffen's place. Page and Rogers are the two leading men in the field. But Page is needed at end and Rogers is without much experience at the quarterback position."

"Even if we did use Page at quarter, he could not be expected to make anything like the impression Steffen did. He has not appeared at quarterback in one game in the last two years. We should have an excellent line this year, as we have all the regulars from tackle to tackle. In addition, there will be Gerend, Rademacher, Smith and Macomber of the new men. This will give us material enough for two sets of forwards, and we shall be well equipped in case of injuries. Of the men who played last year, we have Badmoch for center, Hirschi and Eberhorn for guards, and Hoffman and Kelley for tackles."

"In Kassaruker and Sauer, ends, I consider we are fortunate. Both are especially well adapted to the new game. Sauer is a star basketball player and is strong and speedy. Either would make good in the backfield also if needed there."

Director Staggs said one of the strongest points about the candidates this year is their versatility. "There is not one of the players who cannot play at least two positions, and I shall undoubtedly have a hard time deciding where to place them," he declared. "I want to make it clear right now that not one on the team has his place clinched, although there are several who cannot be kept off. There will be some warm competition for positions on the eleven this fall."

Asked how he considered the chances of the Maroons, Coach Staggs shrugged his shoulders, his optimism changing to respect for squads of the rival coaches.

Uneasy About Others.

"I have heard enough good things about the teams we shall meet to give all sorts of uneasiness," he continued. "Minnesota, which we beat 29 to 6, will give us a mighty hard game. Williams had a green squad when he met us, but by the end of the season it won from the Carlisle Indians. Wisconsin and Illinois gave us hard games last year, and, to put it conservatively, should do the same at the next meetings. From what I hear, Cornell has been hard hit. But the Ithaca coaches will have a wealth of substitutes who were as good as the regulars in 1908."

"The truth is that it is much harder to make forecasts on championships than it was before the introduction of the new style. So much depends on luck. Chicago, by having a backfield inferior to that of last year, when Steffen and Iddings were in the lineup, will be laboring under a handicap. From the present view of things, neither of these veterans will be replaced. That will leave Crawley and Worthwine a hard task. Sunderland, Samson, De Both, Menard and Davenport may surprise many."

"We ought to have eighteen or twenty men out regularly. There will not be much time available for preliminaries, as the first game with Speik's Purdue eleven is not to be taken lightly. Then in rapid succession will come Indiana and Illinois."

Seven Games for Maroons.

The complete schedule for the Maroons is:
Oct. 2—Purdue on Marshall field.
Oct. 9—Indiana on Marshall field.
Oct. 16—Illinois on Marshall field.
Oct. 23—Minnesota at Minneapolis.
Nov. 6—Northwestern on Marshall field.
Nov. 13—Cornell at Ithaca.
Nov. 20—Wisconsin on Marshall field.

PATRICK HURLEY IS DEAD.

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

Park City, Sept. 21.—Former Sheriff Patrick Hurley died this afternoon of miner's consumption. He was one of the best known young men in this community. Last fall he was elected sheriff by the Democrats, but about a month ago ill health compelled him to resign. He was born in Bangor, Me., in 1874, and came here with his parents when he was a small boy. When only 14 he went to work in the Ontario mine, supporting his widowed mother. He is survived by three brothers and three sisters, all living here, except John Hurley, who lives at Provo.

He was a member of the Knights of Columbus, and this organization will

FRIENDS AT TESTIMONIAL

Farewell Entertainment for Joseph H. Taylor Is Given Before Crowded Hall at Fourteenth Ward.

The many friends of Joseph H. Taylor, who will leave soon on a mission to Germany, filled the Fourteenth ward chapel last night at a farewell testimonial in his honor. An excellent musical and literary program was rendered.

The opening number of the program was a violin duet by Lillian Elder and Florence Burton, which was well received. A baritone solo by Alma Clayton followed. Soprano solos were rendered by Anna Erickson and Esther Davis, both of which were pleasing. A piano solo by Julia Smith was also a pleasing number on the program. Irene White and Vida Lambert gave recitations which found much favor with the audience, the one by Miss White being especially good. Duets were given by Bertram Willis and Nina Nelson and by James Nielsen and David Nielsen. Solos by Lee Robinson and by Edith Grant were well received. "Do It," a comic song and dialogue by Sid Clawson and George Margetts, was easily the hit of the program. Brief addresses were made by Bishop E. S. Woodruff and the recipient of the testimonial, Joseph H. Taylor.

NEW PRIZES ARE OFFERED

Directors of Utah State Fair Association Decide on Premiums and Appoint Official Band.

The board of directors of the Utah State Fair association held a meeting at the Chamber of Commerce last night, and in addition to transacting considerable routine business, decided on Held's band as the official concert band of the fair and made up special prize lists.

For the best herd of Herefords, consisting of one bull and four cows, a silver cup will be given as first prize, and $20 for second prize.

The following additional premiums will be offered for mules: 4 years old and over, first $25, second $15; 3 years old and over, first $20, second $10; 2 years old and under 3, first $15, second $8; 1 year old and under 2, first $10, second $5; colt under 1 year, first $10, second $5.

A special prize of $25 is offered by John R. Winder for the best registered herd of Jersey stock, consisting of one bull and four cows over 3 years old, owned and exhibited by one person. Mr. Winder also offers $25 for the best herd of registered Jerseys, consisting of one bull and four cows, all under 3 years of age, owned and exhibited by one person.

A special premium of $50 will be paid for the best exhibit of semi-tropical fruits, nuts, dried fruits, etc. For the best display of agricultural and horticultural products, a special prize of $50 will also be given.

A gold medal for first and a diploma for second are offered as special prizes for the best violin made by an amateur under 21 years of age.

MUSICALE DRAWS CROWD

Excellent Program Rendered at Entertainment for Benefit of Library for the Blind.

The benefit musicale for the book fund of the reading room for the blind at the public library, held at the First Congregational church last night, was well patronized, and the program met with great favor.

The opening number of the program was the Andante and variations for two pianos by Miss Lorene Leary and Miss Minette C. Baer, a most pleasing number. Fred Smith was heard in excellent voice in "Prologue I Pagliacci." Two bright violin solos were given by Miss Esther Allen, "Romance sans Paroles" and "Trepak." "Who Is Sylvia?" and "Hark, Hark the Lark," two excellent numbers, were sung by Mrs. A. S. Peters in sweet voice. The pleasing personality of Mrs. William Igleheart was shown to good effect in the reading, "The Brook," with violin obligato by Mr. Skelton. "Autumn" and "Spring," two song numbers by Mrs. A. H. Owens, with violin obligato by Mr. Skelton, met with great favor. Miss Edna Cohn was heard in two pleasing songs, "Within My Heart a Song I Found" and "Beloved, It Is Morn." Albert Freeman, a blind boy, made a great hit in his clever violin rendition of "Traumerei." Miss Florence Kimball, who just returned from California Tuesday evening, kindly consented to sing, and her solo was well received. Three excellent numbers, "Were I a Rose," "Thou Art Like Unto a Flower" and "Long Ago in Alcala," were rendered in pleasing manner by Alexander J. Kisselberg. Miss Sybella Clayton concluded the program with a Least number in her usual excellent manner.

TO PRESENT GRIEVANCES

Oregon Short Line Machinists Seek Readjustment of Shop Rules at Ogden.

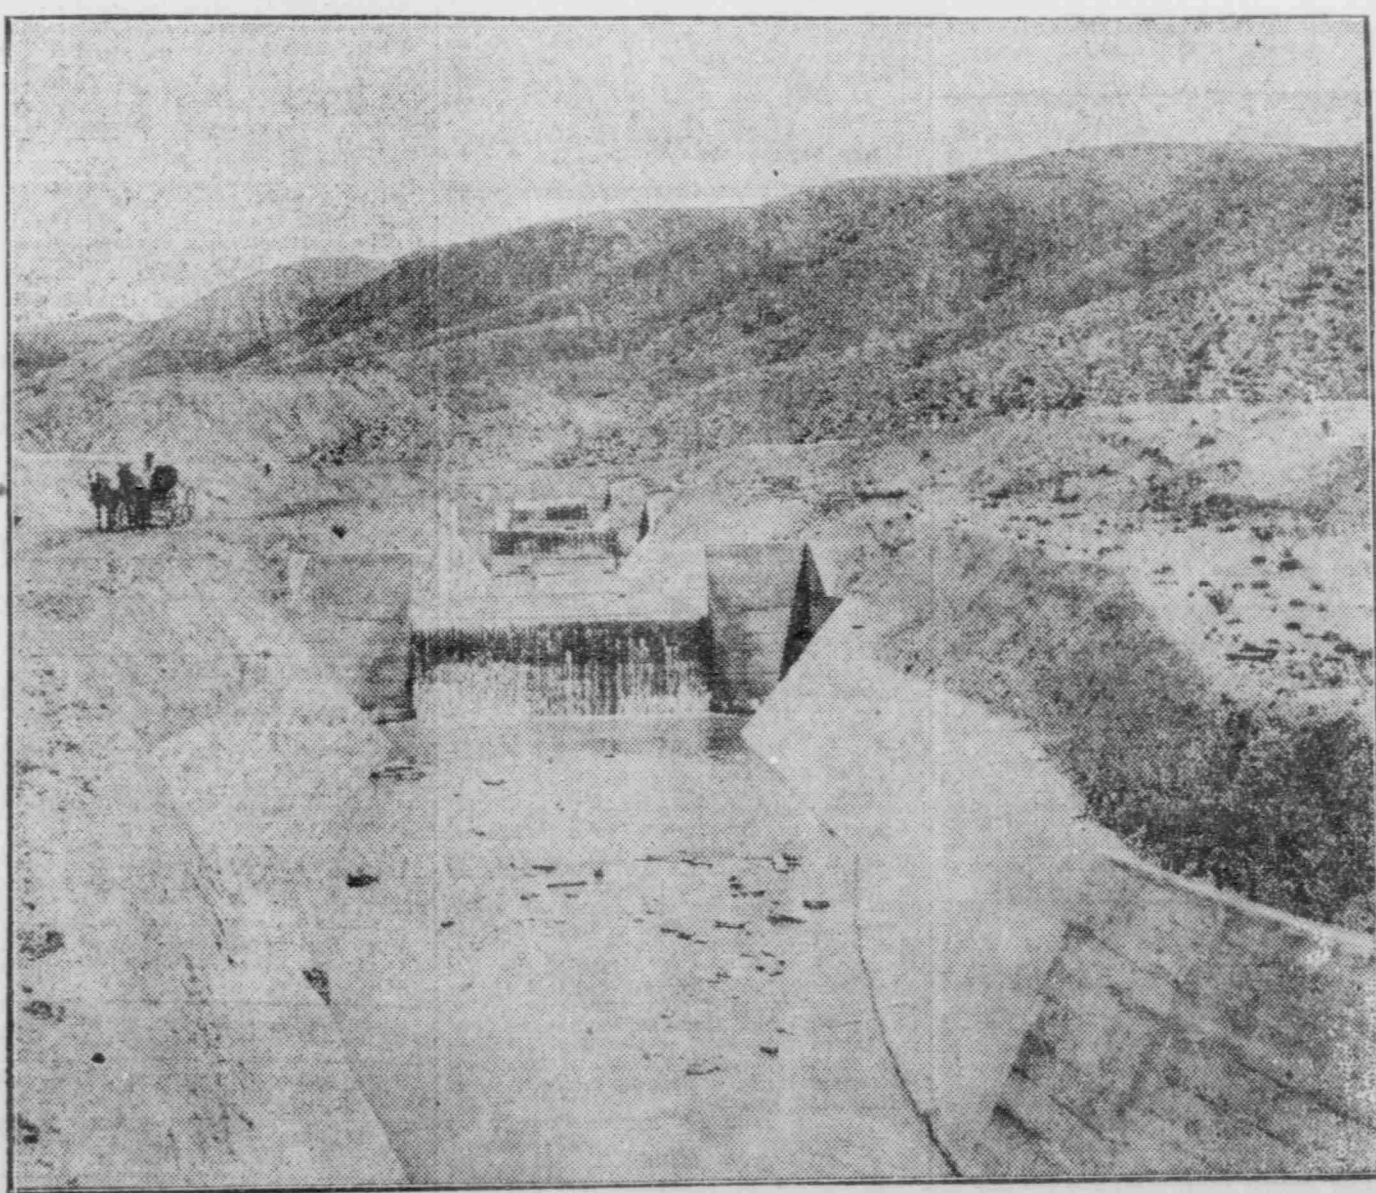

Oregon Short Line machinists from Ogden will meet with James F. Dunn, superintendent of motive power, today to talk over certain concessions for which the machinists have asked. The fact that this meeting was to take place has been the basis for the report at division points that a machinists' strike was contemplated.

"I have heard nothing whatever concerning a strike," said Mr. Dunn yesterday. "I believe such reports are utterly unfounded, as our men seem to be well satisfied and are steady, thrifty employees, who prefer to confer with us concerning their requirements than to resort to arbitrary measures."

"A number of machinists will meet in my office tomorrow and we will discuss shop rules and other matters which they have brought to my attention. That is all there is to the strike report."

SI SEYMOUR TALKS OF SOME REAL HARD LUCK

Talking of hard luck playing, Si Seymour of the Giants remarked, reminiscent like that he knew of a sad case of it. Asked about it, he said:
"Well, I know a guy that didn't get a hit for two weeks once and then went into a Sunday game and poked off four home runs only to find that it was an exhibition game and the records didn't count."
"Well, that guy must have been pretty darn sore," observed a player.
"Yes he was," admitted Si. "I was the guy."

HE KNEW.

(London Skit.)
The teacher was giving a geography lesson, and the class, having traveled from London to Labrador, and from Thessaly to Timbuctoo, was thoroughly worn out.
"And now," said the teacher, "we come to Germany, that important country governed by the Kaiser. Tommy Jones, what is a Kaiser?"
"Please, 'm," yawned Tommy Jones, "a stream of hot water springing up and disturbing the earth."

I Can't See

—how any man with common sense will persist in going to the ready-to-wear clothing houses in this town and paying more for a "made by the gross" suit than he would for a perfectly tailored garment at my shop.

I've got the proposition that any keen dresser will appreciate—you can select your fabric—try the suit on while it is being made—be absolutely sure of a perfect fit, and at the same time know that every detail of the entire suit will be perfect—as perfect as a suit can be.

The price—there's another advantage my suits possess—you pay

$20.00 to $35.00

A "hand-me-down" costs you $25 to $45—and look at the difference; my suits are guaranteed.
